Learner Access

Access the IDCEC website at www.idcec.org

You have been assigned a unique IDCEC number and password. If you have misplaced the information please search for this number on the IDCEC website (top right corner, near the Login button). Once you have your IDCEC number, click on "Forgotten Password" and a new password will be sent to you by email. Please note that the password will only be sent to the email address IDCEC has on your profile.

Check your spam folder as sometimes spam filters may quarantine email received from an unrecognized source. If you do not receive an email within one business day email admin@idcec.org

Click on the Login Button.
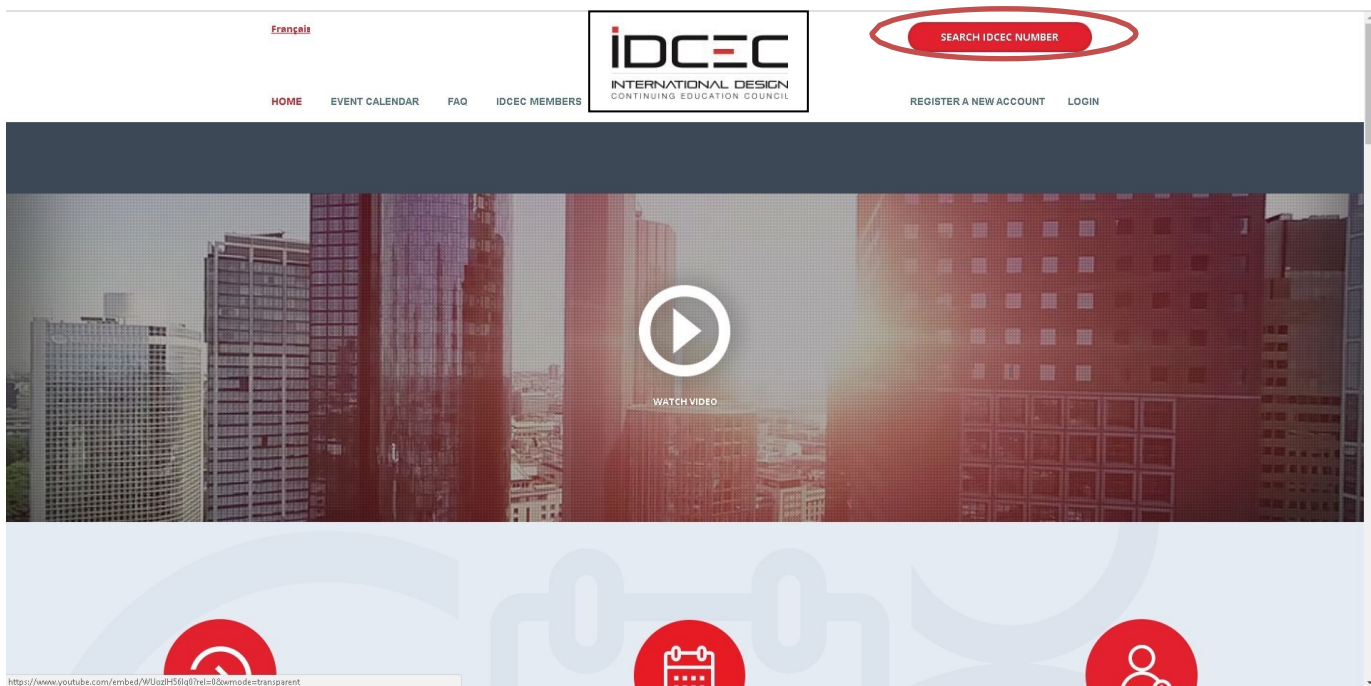

LOGIN

Please use your assigned IDCEC identification number including all zeros and hyphen.
If you do not have your password to log into your account please click "Forgotten Password" and your password will be emailed to you within one business day.

LOGIN   FORGOTTEN PASSWORD

Enter your IDCEC identification number with the hyphen and all zeros. Do not include blank spaces.

Enter the password given to you in lowercase. Remember to change the password to one you can remember after you are logged in. You can do this by going to the 'Reset Password' tab on your left navigation bar once you are logged in.

Do not share your password, and remember to take your IDCEC number to all IDCEC approved courses you attend. You must provide the IDCEC identification number to the instructor at all IDCEC approved seminars you attend so that the provider can report attendance (excluding conference seminars) on your behalf.

Mobile App

Effective March 2021, IDCEC introduced the mobile app for IDCEC registry users.
This app can be used for all in-person conferences and courses. All you need is your IDCEC number and password.
This unique app will allow users to scan their attendance at a CEU event with a click of a button. Attendance is reported for you immediately. It gives you control to manage your credits efficiently.

By using the Mobile App, a user will never have to self-report an IDCEC course or conference. Just scan the QR code at the event and your attendance will be reported immediately.

Courses not registered with IDCEC must be self-reported as a non-IDCEC course. However, IDCEC strongly encourages you to only register or attend a course that has been approved by IDCEC.

Your Dashboard

Once you are logged in, you have access to your personal account. This page will give you a summary of your continuing education activity. Access it frequently and check that your credits are reported correctly. This page allows you to keep track of completion of CEUs that are required by your Association or State Board to fulfill membership or license renewal requirements.

You can click on the 'View My Courses' tab to return to the main page at any time.

Once your courses are reported, use the 'Transcript' tab to view your summarized record by reporting cycle. Refer to the transcript section in this manual for more information.
The arrow keys to the right of the Reporting cycle label allow you to expand and view a summary of your CEUs.

It is important that you have the ability to scan paper copies of your certificates and name them properly to reflect and identify the back-up documents such as certificates of completion. An example of how to name your files for easy recognition would be, Neocon_June2012.

Make sure that the title does not exceed the limit of characters allowed when naming a file. This will help you manage the documents when you upload them to your online record. Upload of documents must be done from the main page on your dashboard after you have entered your activity record.

For directions on scanning documents please consult the instruction manual for your printer/scanner. IDCEC cannot assist with queries specific to the use of your printer or scanner.

Types of Reporting

You can report a Course or a Conference. Before you report a course, you must determine if the course offered was a stand-alone offering or if the course taken was part of a conference. Remember courses or seminars taken as part of a conference are self-reported and normally have a conference card that lists all the courses or seminars as opposed to individual certificates of completion.

All your records will be maintained electronically for a maximum of three reporting cycles including the current reporting cycle.

It is recommended that all users print a copy of the transcript for their records at the end of each year or reporting cycle.

IDCEC Approved Courses

IDCEC approved courses will be reported on your behalf when you provide your IDCEC identification number to the presenter of the course. You will receive an email once your attendance has been reported by the provider of the course. The provider of the course will report attendance on your behalf within 5-7 business days after the event.

By using the Mobile App, a user will never have to self-report an IDCEC approved course. Just scan the QR code at the event and your attendance will be reported immediately.

The course will automatically show up on your dashboard where you can fill out the survey and obtain the electronic certificate of completion. The survey is available for a period of 3 days after attendance has been reported for you. If the survey is not completed within 3 days, the system will automatically issue an electronic certificate of completion.

You can self-report courses provided you have valid proof of completion. Do not self-report a course if you have provided the 10-digit IDCEC number to the course provider at the event as you will create a duplicate record on your account.

Non-IDCEC Courses

Please contact your Association for approval forms or to find out if other courses will qualify for CEU compliance.

IDCEC Approved Conferences

Conference providers will not report your attendance at seminars or courses within a conference or trade show but will provide either a certificate of completion or a conference card that must be stamped or signed at the event. You must self-report seminars or courses taken at a conference by searching the conference by number or name and choosing from the list of courses or seminars offered.

Report Course Attendance

All IDCEC approved courses are reported for you by the course provider.

Do not self-report a course if you have provided your IDCEC 10-digit number to the instructor of the course or use the mobile app to scan your attendance. You will create a duplicate record on your transcript. You may self-report an IDCEC approved course only if attendance has not been reported for you within 10 business days after the event. You must have a valid certificate of completion to self- report an IDCEC course.

If attendance has not been reported for you and you have provided your IDCEC number on the attendance sheet at the event, please contact the provider directly.

The system will indicate that the record has been created. Click the 'OK' button and then click on the 'View My Courses' tab.

All courses/ seminars taken within a conference or tradeshow are issued with a unique IDCEC course/seminar number to ensure that the learner obtains credit for the seminars attended.

A learner can now report individual seminars attended within the conference and upload the certificate of completion or conference card that shows validation of the individual seminars attended. Individual seminars attended will show on the transcript and will be flagged as conference attendance.

Enter the name or number of the conference (example: CONF-10101 or NEOCON or CONF) and click the 'Search' button.

Report Seminar Attendance

Check off the seminars you attended at the conference to the right of the seminar title. Please only choose the seminars attended for which you have a certificate of completion or conference card that is validated and confirms your attendance at the seminar.

Your confirmation of attendance will be audited by your association at the end of your reporting cycle to make sure you have met the minimum continuing education hours.

Last Updated 2021

Click the 'Report Seminar Attendance' to confirm and record your attendance.

A list of the seminars attended will show up after you press the 'Report Seminar Attendance' button.

Add your scanned certificate of completion or conference card by clicking on the browse button and choosing the document that has been previously scanned to your computer. Then attach the document as proof of completion. Ensure that your documents are properly labeled so you can identify them (example: file name should typically include the conference name and year). A document cannot exceed 5 MB in size.

Registration in a seminar or conference is not accepted as valid proof. You may upload more than one document as proof of completion. Ensure that you press the upload button each time. The uploaded file will show up in the grid below the upload button after they have been successfully uploaded. You can upload other information if necessary. Each uploaded document cannot exceed 5 MB in size.

If you do not belong to an Association you can report this conference and upload proof of attendance.

Once you have entered all the course/seminar details within the conference you can upload proof of completion by pressing the 'Browse' button and upload the document that has been previously scanned to your computer showing proof of attendance or the approval number issued by your Association.

Ensure that you press the upload button each time you attach a file to confirm upload.

The uploaded file(s) will show up in the grid below the upload button after they have been successfully uploaded.

Transcripts

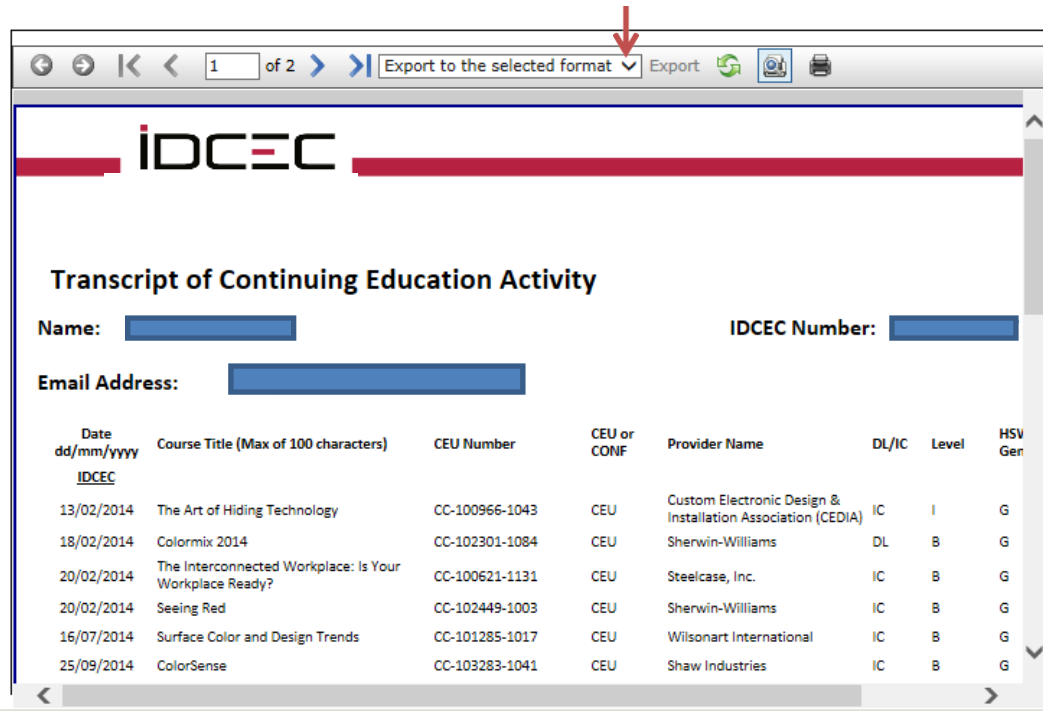

Transcripts will be issued for individual associations as the reporting requirements and reporting cycles may differ. If you belong to more than one Association you must print the transcript separately for each membership organization as requirements for each organization are different. Please choose the membership organization and reporting cycle from the drop down list.

If you belong to an association other than a core association (ASID, IIDA , IDC) or are a State Board licensee, your membership organizations will show up as "None_IDCEC Core Member" and your reporting cycle will display by year (January- December).

Last Updated 2021

You can export and save the transcript to your computer or print it. To print a transcript, choose the PDF version from the drop-down menu first.

Compliance with your Association or State Board

Compliance requirements and reporting periods for Associations and State Boards vary. Please contact your Association or State Board for information regarding the number of CEUs required per reporting period to maintain or renew your membership or license.
